4. Type of resources in the Digital Library

HEC Digital Library has been providing the following type of e-resources;

- i. Full Text
In full text the whole journal/book can be downloaded
- ii. Partial Full Text
Selected articles can be downloaded
- iii. Table of Contents/abstracts only
Only content of books/journal and abstracts can be read online.

5. Searching Techniques

- i. Boolean Search: The three basic Boolean operators are: AND, OR, and NOT.
  - a) Using AND: Narrow your results, tell the database that ALL search terms must be present in the resulting records.
  - b) Using OR: Broaden your results, telling the database that ANY of your search terms can be present in the resulting records connect two or more similar concepts.
  - c) Using NOT: Narrow your search, telling the database to ignore concepts that may be implied by your search terms, EXCLUDE words from your search

ii. Truncation:

Truncation, also called stemming, is a technique that broadens your search to include various word endings and spellings.

- To use truncation, enter the root of a word and put the truncation symbol at the end. The database will return results that include any ending of that root word.
- Examples:
  - plant* = plants, plantation, planting
  - genetic* = genetic, genetics, genetically
- Truncation symbols may vary by database; common symbols include: *, !, ?, or #

iii. Wildcards:

Similar to truncation, wildcards substitute a symbol for one letter of a word.

- This is useful if a word is spelled in different ways, but still has the same meaning.
- Examples:
  - wom!n = woman, women
  - colo?r = color, colour

iv. Proximity search:

Proximity searching allows you to search based on how closely two or more search terms appear in the search results

- Near Operator (N), female N5 education (in any order)
- Within Operator (W), female W5 education (in order)

v. Phrase searching:

- “Female education in Pakistan”

vi. Field Searching

- Author, Title, Publisher, etc.

Open Access Resources (Useful Links)

Open-access literature is digital literature that is available on the web, free of charge, and free of most copyright and licensing restrictions. Committing to open access requires dispensing with the financial, technical and legal barriers that are designed to limit access to scientific research articles to paying customers. The only constraint on reproduction and distribution, and the only role for copyright in this domain, should be to give authors control over the integrity of their work and the right to be properly acknowledged and cited.
